Visits to national museums and galleries in England

In this report we are going to talk about the attendance of museums and galleries in England. Here we have the statistics for the years 2013, 2015 and 2017. ~~If we take a closer look, we can~~ By taking ~~a~~ closer look, we can analyze the statistics and give some recommendations.

Firstly, we can see that the number of people who have visited the Natural History Museum and the Science Museum has decreased drastically compared to the rates of 2013. ~~The drop was not total~~ (from 3,7mln to 1,9mln. and from 3,8mln to 1,6mln respectively). The drop was most definitely caused by the introduction of admission charges in 2014.

On the other hand, the British Museum, the National Gallery and the Tate Gallery experienced a big growth in attendance in the year 2015 and ^{the numbers} became even more substantial in 2017. That means that the science museums now show less appeal, and the visitors are more interested in works of art and sculpture.

In conclusion, we can see that admission charges reflect badly on a museum's attendance. Cancelling or lowering it may solve the problem. Another good way to increase the number of visitors is ^{providing} free tours for certain groups of people, for example, students or elderly people.
